How to Make a Comic Book
Storytelling | Technology

ConnectABILITY.ca

WHAT MAKES IT MEANINGFUL

Wish you could make your own comic book? Maybe create your own story about your favourite comic book characters? Wish you could create your own superhero? Look no further. This activity seeks to bring out your creativity and story telling prowess to express yourself within the pages of a comic book. This activity is meant to give you the resources needed to make our own world with you in control of the story.

TIME

Can take as long or as little as you like.

MATERIALS

Include any necessary or suggested materials needed for the activity.
- Device that can connect to the internet
- Internet
- An account on https://www.storyboardthat.com/

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Go to https://www.storyboardthat.com/ on your internet connected device
2. Make an account by pressing on the big blue button on the top righthand side of the screen with the word Register inside of it and fill out all the criteria that is required
3. Then decide on a free trail or purchase a plan (details on the plans will be listed below)
4. Then log back onto the website, press Create a Storyboard and follow the training prompts to find out how to use the websites and features.
5. Make your own Comic book and save your work frequently.
6. Print out finished work in order to make a real comic book

RESOURCES

ILinks:

- https://www.storyboardthat.com/

SUPPORTS NEEDED

Note: Different people will have different supports.
Some areas where people may need supports is the following:
- Making an account
- Purchasing a plan if needed
- Logging in to your account
- Having someone explain the training prompts and how to use the features of the program
- How to save the work
- Where to find the saved work
- How to open saved worked
- How to print out the comic book after being completed digitally

OTHER THINGS TO NOTE:

StoryBoardThat offers 2 free Story abords per week for free that comprise 3 classic panels.
For the unlimited version this can come to a cost of:
- $12.99 (plus taxes and fees) per month
- $11.99 (plus taxes and fees) if billed quarterly
- $10.99 (plus taxes and fees) if billed annually